Russian Squadron Reaches The Pacific Ocean And Captures A Japanese Vessel--Land News Is Reassuring.

(Special by Scripps-Mellie.)
Tokio, July 20.—The armored cruisers Russia, Gromobol and Barik of the Russian Vladivostok squadron entered the Pacific through the Tsugaru straits early this morning in pursuit of a Japanese steamer. It was sighted first at three thirty, passing Iwakado at seven, steaming east. Warnings were sent to all the shipping places. The squadron overhauled the Japanese steamer east of the Tsugaru straits. The name and fate of the vessel is unknown.

The Reason
Port Egypt, Said, July 20.—The British steamer Malacca, which was seized in the Red sea by the Russian cruiser Petersburg because the Russian commander alleged that contraband of war was on board, arrived here this morning with the crew prisoners and under guard. The passengers were transferred to the Mar-mora of the same line and proceeded to their destination. The prize crew consists of four Russian officers and forty-five men.

As to America
Washington, July 20.—Could Russia stop American vessels en route from Manila to Yokohama or any Japanese port and seize mails? These are the questions of extreme interest here in view of the movement of the British Mediterranean squadron, consequent upon the seizure by Russia of British ships in the Red sea and the stopping of mails.

No Precedent for the Case
The state department here is receiving and carefully considering all the dispatches on the subject, but is not yet prepared to make a statement of the relative right of Germany, Japan, Russia or Great Britain as to these seizures. The naval and diplomatic officials here say recent history gives no precedent for the exploits of the Russian converted cruisers in the Red sea. The British cruisers stopped German and American vessels en route to Lorenzo Marques, a Portuguese port, during the Boer war, but the British have never claimed the right of search of the mails, official or unofficial. The seizure and opening of mails bound for Japan is the new principle with which the diplomats are wrestling, and of which they are now able to give an opinion.

United States Would Not Protest
As to the stopping of vessels and the looking for contraband, it is said that the United States itself would not protest if one of the vessels was stopped in the Red sea—that is, if the search was "reasonable" and did not involve too long delay. For the latter infractions of international law the United States would have the right of diplomatic representation and the demand for indemnity. England paid indemnity for American flour on vessels stopped by the British en route to Lorenzo Marques. Great Britain having merely assumed in that capture that the flour, would eventually find its way to the Boer camp.

An Under-current
The undercurrent of feeling is that Russia has gone a step further than can be justified by international law and that perhaps Great Britain will now be satisfied with merely the certainty of indemnities after the Russo-Japanese war ends.

The diplomatic world here regards the situation as one full of danger and capable at any time of precipitating another power on the field of battle. That power is England. It will be recalled that when the secret treaty between England and Japan was made public about two and a half years ago the treaty contained the clause practically that Great Britain would not interfere in a war between Japan and any other nation until a third nation took a hand.

England Excited
London, July 20.—The excitement here over the stoppage and search of British merchant steamers by Russian cruisers is intense. The feeling has been greatly increased by the seizure of the P. & O. steamer Malacca in the Red sea and the sending of her as a prize to Suez with the Russian flag flying and with a Russian crew aboard.

The prompt action of the government in dispatching the Mediterranean squadron to the Suez canal and armored cruisers to the Red sea and the placing of the home and channel squadrons on a war footing, shows that the British government is fully alive to the importance of the situation and prepared to be prepared for any eventualities.

There is good authority for saying that these have not been the only precautions taken by the government. Lord Kitchener, commander of the forces in India, has been instructed to put the Indian army in condition for active service without loss of time, and there has been great activity in all the home military depots and arsenals.

If there is to be war, Great Britain will be prepared for it. These preparations are not only heartily approved by the public, but on all hands the people are rejoicing to see the British lion bare his teeth.

No French Troops
Peking, July 20.—The rumors that the French have threatened to send troops to Kwangsi in connection with the disturbances are unfounded. The French legation emphatically repudiates the idea. The trouble, though serious from the Chinese point of view, causes no uneasiness to the French.

No Fear at All
St. Petersburg, July 20.—As an outcome of Lieutenant General Count Keller's engagement at Mo-Tien pass the military experts are convinced that there has been a rearrangement of the Japanese forces and a change in the Japanese plans in favor of a flanking movement on Ta-Teh-Kiao. This change, coinciding with the arrival of Field Marshal Oyama, leads the experts to attribute the responsibility to the new commander in chief.

It is admitted that the Japanese are showing an appreciation of the present aspect of the campaign. Hitherto General Kuropatkin has been able to mislead Generals Kuraki, Nodzu and Oku and to induce them to expend their greatest energy where it would do the least harm.

Kuropatkin Feels No Fear
The center of interest has again been transferred to Liao Yang and the Russians are able at this juncture to regard the situation with proper equanimity. The Liao Yang position is of such strength that Kuropatkin's advance would be rather welcomed by General Kuropatkin.

It is probable that Kuropatkin ordered Keller to attack with the view of drawing on the Japanese, just as he sent General Stackelberg to draw them up from the south.

Tall Grass Aids Russians
The developments of the campaign in the near future are bound to be influenced greatly by a new factor, the luxuriance of the vegetation following the few days of rain and by the rains themselves, which are due any day. The tall grass, effectually concealing an enemy, renders the prospect of an advance to the valley of the Liao river too hazardous and therefore the advance has probably been abandoned by the Japanese, thus explaining the delay in the occupation of Yinkow.

On the other hand, if the rains begin soon it is extremely improbable that Field Marshal Oyama will venture to order an advance on Liao Yang in view of the enormous difficulties of transportation over the heavy roads and the swollen streams.

Grand Duke Boris in Battle
Details of the fighting at Mo-Tien pass disprove the wild rumors that Grand Duke Boris had been exiled to Archangel, as it has been shown that he is serving under General Keller.

Japs Move to Northeast

Ta-Teh-Kiao, July 20.—The newspaper press correspondent has been riding around the southern portions of the country which is now scarcely recognizable. Since the few days of rain the whole land has become lost in luxuriant vegetation. The grain crop has grown with such extraordinary rapidity that everywhere it is higher than the tallest man and in the skirmishes the scouts have been able to find cover. Ambushes and surprises are of everyday occurrence.

The Japanese seem to be moving their forces northward in the direction of Huiyan and Simouchen. Fresh guns, mules and ammunition are being brought up daily and sent to points where the Japanese expect to give battle. The movement is considerably impeded by Russian attacks.

At Shatziatun and Galtzhatun the Russian gunners shelled the Japanese camps and drove the troops out in disorder. Many were killed or wounded and large supplies were abandoned. Another Japanese party was surprised at Kabanke and Tanchemam while marching. In the mountain defiles to join General Nodzu. The Russians advanced two miles today by occupying a position evacuated by the Japanese.

Making Ready
Sherbourg, July 20.—The orders issued today to all submarines and squadrons of the French channel squadron now on leave are to report to their vessels forthwith to take part in a general inspection tomorrow. It is a serious measure. The report is in circulation the fleet will be ordered to the Orient at once. It looks dangerous. There is great excitement here.

MADISON COUNCIL
HAS A HOT TIMEGraft Question Is Brought Up Against Several of The Members of City Administration.

(Special To The Gazette.)
Madison, Wis., July 20.—Graft and grafters are becoming themes of spirited debate in the Madison common council. Alderman C. N. Brown of the first ward, with a following, desires to enforce strictly a charter provision which provides that no alderman or member of a city board shall be interested in any contract for public work. This law has been strictly enforced, often bitterly ignored. The council contains several contractors, being plumbers, masons and builders, and frequently these are directly or indirectly interested in city contracts. The most recent point in issue is a contract for some $800 work at the city isolation hospital. The contract was let to Swenson Brothers, carpenter contractors, but $700 of the work was done under a sub-contract by Walter J. Hyland, a plumber, and alderman from the fourth ward. This sub-contract and others similar to it, are attacked by Alderman Brown as being contrary to the charter provision and unlawful. Alderman Hyland and his following, however, declare that a sub-contractor has nothing to do with the city and cannot be interfered with by a charter provision. He is probably in the majority in the council, the bill will doubtless be ordered paid, but Alderman Brown says the law will be invoked to put a stop to this practice.

GAME WARDENS A
DECIDED HURTWisconsin Republicans Feel That The Cause Is Being Hurt by Their Presence.

(Special To The Gazette.)
Madison, Wis., July 20.—The thrusts of the stalwart republicans in Wisconsin at Governor La Follette's army of game warden and all inspector political workers have struck home, according to the following significant utterance of Henry P. Coehms, secretary of the La Follette state central committee: "I am convinced that every game warden and every all inspector is a political liability and not a resource. We are handicapped by them and would be better off if we had not one of them."

Secretary Coehms made this statement in the corridor of the state house. He admitted that the army of game warden and other state employees appointed by the governor and active in his organization are detrimental to the cause because they are known to be working for the governor because of material self interest. Nevertheless, it is not understood that any of the game wardens, all inspectors and factory inspectors will be "pulled off" by the administration organization. Governor La Follette's home city a Roosevelt-La Follette meeting in the courthouse attended by some 150 men, a large per centage of them being state employees. This fact was so apparent that much of the effect of the meeting was destroyed. La Follette appointees have been working in the county for several weeks getting signatures to the administration club roll and nearly 1,000 names are reported. The organization of these clubs will be attempted throughout the state.

GRAFTER LANDS

Gets Into Trouble.

(Special To The Gazette.)

Madison, Wis., July 20.—Frank J. Walworth's commitment to the county jail for 60 days yesterday upon a plea of guilty to the charge of obtaining property by false pretenses brought to light a story which it is believed will solve the mystery of the individual who is alleged to have "worked" neighboring towns with a species of graft on the strength of newspaper reports of a projected electric railway. For weeks past complaints have been made of the disappearance of a person who represented himself to be the advance agent of the Chicago & Milwaukee Electric railway and the foreman of a supposed gang of surveyors to follow. He would contract hotel and livery bills and disappear. Recently Walworth, who gives his home as nowhere, appeared in the village of Sun Prairie and representations as to his business as stated. His career was brought to an abrupt close when a livery man from whom he hired rigs to view the scenery awoke with the other natives to a realization of the fact that an electric road from Chicago to Milwaukee would not pass through the hamlet, and had the supposed agent arrested.

Dr. James H. Noble of Eau Claire is the La Follette candidate for the state senate.

CUTTING WAGES
IN DULL TIMESGisholt Works at Madison Make a Decided Cut Because of Lack of Market.

Madison, July 20.—A general reduction of wages was announced in the Gisholt machine shops. The reduction amounts to 15 per cent in the wages of the higher-salaried or skilled workmen and from 5 to 10 per cent in the wages of the ordinary and unskilled workmen.

Yesterday afternoon the 200 or more men employed in the shops were called together and members of the firm announced the cut in wages. The reason announced was lack of market and consequently less profit in the results of the labor of the men. The members of the firm refused to make any public announcement and refused to give any information whatever regarding the cut.

Notwithstanding the substantial reduction of wages, the men accept the situation as agreeable as is to be expected and it is believed that few if any of them will give up their places. They regret the necessity for the action, but appear to understand that it was a case of reduce the wages or else close down the shops, and the men are on terms of sympathy with their employers and apparently prefer to accept the lower wages for the temporary dull time, biding the return of a better market and normal wages, which it is hoped will come after the commercial life of the country ceases to be disturbed by the political uncertainty.

Strikers Anxiously Await The Decision For Another Conference--May Call A General Strike
This Afternoon.

(Special by Scripps-Mellie.)
Chicago, Ill., July 20.—It is reported this morning the packers are determined to shut down the stockyards in an effort to defeat the strikers and crush the unions. Representatives of the packers are in conference this morning preparing to answer to the demand of the allied trades for a peace conference and the refusal to grant the demand will mean the beginning of a sympathetic strike of twelve thousand more stockyards workers. Seventy-five strike breakers arrived at seven this morning and were followed at ten by another train load. They were escorted safely into the yards by a heavy guard of police. They were jeered at by the strikers. The packers claim the situation has greatly improved this morning and there is more activity than any day since the strike began.

At Kansas City
Kansas City, Mo., July 20.—Packers claim they are running within twenty per cent of their full capacity. The live stock market is quite active today. Union officials say sixteen hundred have joined the union since the strike started.

Chicago, July 20.—To-day probably will be the turning point of the stockyards strike. Representatives of the mechanical trades now at work in the packing houses late yesterday afternoon addressed to the packers a letter in which they asked a three-sided conference for the purpose of discussing peace terms. The packers promised to reply this morning. If the packers refuse to renew the peace negotiations, the labor leaders say, a sympathetic strike involving nearly 14,000 men in Chicago alone probably will be called.

The letter in which another conference is asked was written at the Sherman house after the men who are seeking to intervene in the labor struggle had held a several hours' session with President Donnelly, Vice-President John Floerssch and Secretary Homer D. Call of the butcher workmen.

Text of the Letter.

The letter in full was as follows: "Mr. J. Ogden Armour and Associates: Gentlemen: The undersigned, representatives of the teamsters and the mechanical and other trades engaged in the packing industry, if Chicago not involved in the present strike, would like to meet the representatives of the Amalgamated Meat Cutters and Butcher Workmen in a joint conference with a view of helping adjust the present trouble and prevent its spreading to our organizations. The unrest that now obtains among our members makes this a request imperative. If convenient, we would like the conference to be held on the afternoon of Wednesday, July 20, 1904. A similar request was made to the representatives of the Amalgamated Meat Cutters and Butcher Workmen and they promptly complied with the same. Kindly notify G. F. Golden, 334 Root street, if our request can be complied with."

Firemen First to Quit?
If the peace efforts should fail and a sympathetic strike should be declared on it is thought that the stationary firemen and engineers would be the first to walk out. According to labor leaders, they would be followed by the copers, steamfitters and other allied trades.

George F. Golden, business agent of the Packing-House Teamsters' union, refused to call a special meeting of that union, saying that the men would vote for a sympathetic strike, and that such action would be unwise until all efforts to secure peace have been made.

Joseph W. Morton, business agent of the firemen, denied that either he or his associates at the conference with the packers' representatives Thursday had expressed an opinion that the packers are in the right in the present controversy.

Packers' Side of It.
Although the packers would give no intimation of what their attitude would be toward the last peace proposal, they united in insisting that the strike had not crippled their plants to any great extent. A. F. Evans, representing Swift & Co., said: "The packers declare emphatically that all talk of a scarcity of beef in different parts of the country is exaggerated. Their coolers in Chicago and the east are amply supplied with beef, mutton and pork, and all demands can be promptly taken care of at about the prices that prevailed when the strike was called."

"They claim especially that New York city is in good shape in this respect, and that complaints of scarcity and high prices from that point are entirely unwarranted. From reports made by the packers, there were 2,000 cattle killed in the Chicago yard Tuesday, and the packers are looking for more live stock."

As Viewed by Donnelly.
President Donnelly of the butchers in discussing the situation said:

"We are not bothered about reports from the packing-houses that butchering is being done on an increased scale daily. What is worrying us is to settle this strike so that the people can get meat at a lower price. The representatives of the mechanical trades and the teamsters asked us to meet them for the purpose of considering a plan to bring about another peace conference, and I at once replied that we were willing to meet the packers again."

"I am not in favor of a sympathetic strike. I have tried to hold the men in the other trades in restraint from the first, hoping that some basis for arbitration might be secured. If the packers refuse to meet us, however, we will continue the fight indefinitely. I cannot say what will be done by the other trades in regard to a sympathetic strike, as a meeting to take action on that matter will be held providing an unfavorable reply is received from the packers."

Anxious in Other Cities.
"I have been receiving repeated inquiries from the leaders of the men in the mechanical trades in Omaha, Sioux City, St. Paul, East St. Louis and Fort Worth in regard to the efforts here to bring about peace. They inform me that their men are hard to control and are eager for a walk-out."

"I have direct information that the number of cattle being butchered at the yards is much lower than what it is said to be. Even when they do kill cattle the packers are unable to do anything with the by-products, and they lose heavily in that respect."

"We intend to establish stations in all cities where a strike has been called, so that the man can obtain their provisions at a low price, or even for nothing, providing that this struggle continues. We will be able to keep them from going hungry for an indefinite period of time. Our co-operative butcher plant in Forty-seventh street will give employment to a number of the men, and also will enable us to sell meat to the members of the union at much lower prices than the packers are charging."

At St. Louis

St. Louis, July 20.—The packers at East St. Louis and St. Louis resumed business today. They claim to be shortly working the full complement. The strikers claim they are satisfied with the progress of the strike.

More Peaceful

St. Paul, Minn., July 20.—The strike situation at South St. Paul is more peaceful. The picket blockade at the entrance to the Swift plant is entirely removed. Those entering the plant are not molested. The company is making no effort to put non-union men at work. Swift claims he is operating thirty-five per cent of the capacity.

BEST PROSPECTS FOR MANY YEARS

JULY CROP REPORT AN EARNEST OF PROSPERITY

EVERYTHING IS DOING WELL

Heavy Hay Fields—Almost Perfect Stands of Wheat, Rye and Barley—Corn Hiking Along.

Best crop prospects for a long time of years is the information gleaned by Secretary John M. True of the state board of agriculture from letters received from correspondents in all parts of the state. Heavy hay crop, almost perfect stands of wheat, barley and oats, and corn, which was feared a few weeks ago to be likely to make a failure, is now doing well. These are the features of the July crop report which will show that prosperity will be the lot of the hardy farmer this season. The surprising fact is reported that there are in the state 15,000 acres of sugar beets in cultivation. The report is as follows:

"A full report from all parts of the state shows the condition of farm crops to be very satisfactory. It is doubtful whether the prospects for a uniformly good yield of the various important crops of the state has been better for a long time of years. Localities affected by drought at the time of the last report have been visited by timely rains, which have relieved the condition of crops that were beginning to suffer, and the reports of soil moisture are now generally favorable.

"Some 40 per cent. of the hay crop has been cut and this has been considerably injured in curing by frequent showers. Later weather has been more favorable and the remainder of the crop is being rapidly secured. The yield is very heavy and the tonnage will be even greater than that of last year. Pastures continue in excellent condition except in a few locations in the southern and eastern parts of the state, where the drought of last month was especially severe. Winter grains are ripening well and will give a high average yield. All spring sowed grains are in satisfactory form. The growth of straw is not as great as last year, saving lodging, and materially increasing the prospect of grain yield. These crops are reported upon a conservative estimate as, spring wheat, 55 per cent.; barley, 98 1/2 per cent.; oats, 98 per cent.

"Corn has made very rapid growth within the past few days and with warm weather it is reasonable to expect will yet make a fair showing for a crop. The plants are of excellent color and some fields are already commencing to tassle. The percentage of condition reported is 85. Potatoes are doing nicely, making a rapid growth and have not been especially troubled with bugs. Their condition is reported at 97 per cent. Tobacco is small but doing well. The average condition is 90 per cent.

"From inquiries sent out as to acreage of growing sugar beets in the state we estimate the entire crop at 15,000 acres. Of this amount the largest acreage comes from Rock, Chippewa, Brown and Waushara counties. Apples continue to fall badly, reducing the former estimates of crop prospects."

THOUSANDS SEEK THE CHEAP LANDS

Crowds Are Increasing at The Roscoe Agency Drawings—Special Orders.

Chamberlain, S. D., July 19.—In a circular issued by the general land office at Washington it is hoped by the authorities that the Roscoe opening of the escape of exorbitant and blackball that was quite general in the opening at that time there were a large number of contests instituted against the holders of the fortunate numbers, on grounds many times so trivial as to show on their face a lack of good faith. Then after the claimants were sufficiently scared to pay over a hundred or two the contests would be dropped. In the present opening arrangements have been made to immediately forward to Washington all contests and these contests will not only receive the prompt attention of the general land office, but the secretary of the interior, the final authority, as well. Unless the cases show merit on their face they will be at once thrown out and the land officials at Chamberlain notified to that effect. There will therefore be no occasions for claimants who know themselves to be honestly entitled to a homestead right to pay over to anyone any amount for the purpose of enabling him to make prompt entry of the land.

A constantly growing proportion of the daily arrivals at Chamberlain for registration are now staying over for the drawing, which begins here on July 28, and in a few days the city will be filled with hopeful ones. It is certain that many thousands will be in town by the time the drawing commences. During the first three days of the drawing the Democrat and Register office of this city will merge their force and issue a daily giving the number, name and address of the 1,000 drawn from the box each day. The work will not be carried higher than 3,000, because by the time that number is reached further numbers will stand no chance to secure land.

Excursion Tickets to Milwaukee, Wis. Via the North-Western line, will be sold July 27 to 30, inclusive. Limited to return until August 1, inclusive, on account of biennial Saengerfest.

HOT WEATHER IS GOOD FOR CROPS

High Temperature Assures a Fast Growth of The Staples of The Country.

"If this hot weather with clear skies is maintained for a week or ten days, we have every assurance of an excellent crop in the grain line this year."

So said several farmers who were in the city yesterday. The greatest interest was centered in the corn crop.

"No, corn isn't as far along as it ought to be at this time of the season, but she's crawling along pretty fast now, with the thermometer registering 110 degrees in the sun," was the answer to the question as to the progress of corn. Sweet corn will be ready by the first of August.

Barley and Rye. Harvesting of barley and rye has commenced and a reasonably good crop is reported. "Hired help is in great demand and alluring wages are being offered, yet few can be induced to help out the farmers."

Oats. Oats are in a critical condition. The heavy rains of the last few weeks have developed oats to extraordinary size and they are now "in the milk."

A little cooler and continued dry weather would be more favorable for oats, but possibly detrimental to corn. Itains followed by hot sun almost invariably develop rust-producing vapor and some apprehension is being felt in the possibility of this danger.

Spring wheat is reported as being in splendid condition and estimated as yielding 25 or 30 bushels to the acre. Harvesting will begin in two or three weeks. Little wheat is grown in Dane county.

The Hay Crop. Comparatively a small percentage of the hay has been cut and stored. Timothy is of first grade and is being sold at $10 a ton. A thick growth of marsh hay is observed all over, and if dry weather prevails a week or two, so as to allow cutting in the marshes, this year will see the largest crop of marsh hay that we have had for many a year.

The berry season is over now and although the heavy rains prevented the crop from being phenomenal, still general satisfaction is being expressed over the results.

That prices of live stock will rise on account of the packers' strike is not generally expected by the farmers. While they admit that the retail prices of meat are bound to soar, they seem to think that the increased prices will be eaten up by the increased wages sure to be gained by the strikers. The farmers are not expecting to reap profits out of the strike.

LOCAL FRUIT ON THE CITY MARKET

What May Be Expected by The Home Purchasers on The Local Fruit Exchanges.

A survey of the local fruit market reveals the fact that the demand for the home grown fruits cannot be supplied, while tropical fruits are in abundance. Black raspberries are hard to get, as pickers cannot work in the extreme heat prevailing. The price is 4c a box generally. The red raspberry fruit is a practical failure, as the bushes were nearly all winter-killed. They are being sold at 18 cents a box. It is reported that there are over 200 bushels of fine cherries on trees at Lake Mills, waiting for pickers to gather them. They are being retailed at $1.60 a half bushel.

The peach season is just beginning and a good crop is reported from the south. An inferior quality of peaches from Georgia has just been consumed by the trade and its place is taken by Texas peaches, which are said to be even better for preserving purposes than those from Michigan. They are sold at 35 to 40 cents a basket. They come in bushels but will be repacked by local wholesalers into smaller baskets.

White, sour grapes for cooking purposes, from Georgia, are being sold at 35 cents a basket and California seedling grapes, good for the table, at 15 cents a pound. Pears in large quantities have arrived from California, and are being sold at 45 cents a basket. A superior grade of watermelons from Texas, the Cobb gems, are being retailed from 25 to 30 cents each. Apples have made no strong impression on the market. Large California plums are plentiful and meet large sales. They retailed at 15 cents a dozen.

Edward Murphy, representative of Stanley Bros., the wholesale fruit dealers, had this to say yesterday:

"Twenty carloads of fruit were sold to the Fruit Growers' association at the stock exchange in Chicago, for the use of the northwest yesterday. It may interest you to know how this is done. Large quantities are sold in a short time to the highest bidders in lots of ten unit quantities. The buyer examines one box of the ten included in the lot, marks down what he thinks it is worth and enters the auction room to bid. The other nine of the lot may be rotten, yet they must be paid for immediately after the sale is announced."

ORGANIZE COUNCIL OF FRATERNAL AID

Order With Beneficiary Membership of 40,000 Establishes Lodge in Janesville.

The Fraternal Aid association recently organized in this city Rock Council No. 736 and the following officers were elected: Chas. E. Klenow, past president; W. W. Taylor, president; E. F. Schumacher, V. Pres.; Mrs. Anna H. Klenow, Secy.; Mrs. Maude Taylor, Treas.; F. B. Farnsworth, M. D., Med. Exam.; Katherine Schoenacher, chaplain; H. L. Kuschin, auditor; A. M. Berge, observer; H. C. Topp, sentinel; John McTavish, Mrs. Hannah Berg, F. H. Schoenacher, trustees. The new council meets on the second and fourth Thursdays each month. The Fraternal Aid Assn. was organized in 1890 at Lawrence, Kansas, and has a beneficiary membership of about 40,000 and has councils in sixteen states. Certificates for $500, $1,000 and $2,000 for either men or women are written. The reserve fund is growing steadily and the organization has a bright future. The first council in the state was organized recently at Madison.

ENGINEER TAKEN SICK IN THE CAB

George Rubel of Chicago Was Overcome by Cramps While Bringing Train From Chicago.

An attack of acute appendicitis overtook Engineer George Rubel of Chicago while he was making his run over the Janesville & Southeastern last evening with the train that arrives here at 8:10. Some distance out of Chicago he was prostrated with cramps and it became necessary for the fireman to take his post and pull the train to this city. "An ambulance call was sent in upon the arrival here and the sick man was conveyed to the Palmer hospital. It will probably be sometime before he can be removed to his home in Chicago."

THIRTEENTH WILL HOLD A REUNION

Noted Rock County Regiment Sets The Date of The Celebration for August 17th.

On August seventeenth the annual gathering of the Thirteenth regiment of Wisconsin volunteers will be held at the court house in Janesville. These yearly gatherings of the old boys in blue are always full of interest to the survivors of that awful struggle and each year the ranks become thinner and thinner. The meeting this year will be full of interest due to the fact that Col. and Mrs. Lyon, the old commander of this famous Rock county regiment, will be present. The Thirteenth regiment was recruited from Rock county towns and the members of the historic regiment delight in their annual gatherings.

MACABEES ARE TO RAISE THE RATES

Question Is to Be Settled Definitely at Their Big Meeting in Detroit.

An increase in rates, it is expected, will be ordered by the supreme bodies of the Knights and Ladies of the Macabees of the World, which is holding their triennial meeting in Detroit. The solution of the question will be the feature of the gathering. The report of Commodore D. P. Markey shows that the Knights number 362,385, an increase of 124,709 in the last three years; 1,549 tents were organized in the term and $7,337,431 was paid in benefits. Mrs. L. M. Holter reported to the Ladies that the membership is now over 150,000, an increase of 88,000 in the term. The emergency fund is $835,788.

DIVIDEND OF THE USUAL SIZE MADE

Directors of The Rock County Telephone Company Had Their Meeting Yesterday.

At the semi-annual meeting of the Rock County Telephone company held yesterday afternoon a dividend of five per cent was declared on the past six months' earnings. Work began this morning with the poles and strinking the wires for the La Prairie and Shupier line. The company has twenty farmers who have asked for the service and many more will join as soon as the line is in working order.

AN INCREASE OF BUSINESS SHOWN

In Report to Stockholders of Janesville Machine Co. Yesterday—New Officers Elected.

At the annual meeting of the Janesville Machine Co. held yesterday afternoon, the following board of directors to serve for the ensuing year was elected: Itham Merrill, James Harris, David Jeffris, Levi B. Carle, Thomas O. Howe, S. C. Cobb, John G. Rexford, Dr. P. B. Farnsworth, and Allan P. Lovejoy, Jr. Subsequently the new board of directors held a meeting and elected the following officers: President—L. B. Carle. Vice Pres.—Itham Merrill. Secretary—W. F. Bosworth. Treasurer—John G. Rexford. Superintendent—S. C. Cobb. Gen. manager—J. A. Craig. The report of the business done last year showed a goodly increase over the previous year, indicating that the company is in a prosperous condition. The stockholders were well satisfied with the showing made.

COSTLY PAINTINGS OF "PIKE" WONDERS

Twenty in Number Have Been Secured for The Big Show at The Golf Links Tuesday.

The last rays of Tuesday's setting sun will rest upon scenes at once weird and grotesque and strangely beautiful at the Mississippi golf links. Along the avenue of tented shows a score of huge oil paintings portraying the "Whirling Dervishers," the "Flying Lady," the "Albino Family," Glants, Dwarfs and Wild Men will all the onlooker with curiosity and awe. At this hour for contemplation many will doubtless retire to the Japanese village to enjoy a cup of tea brewed from the Mito's favorite blend. Snarled by the sounds of rattling chains from the den of "Oseco" the snake eater, imported from Africa at a cost of $5,000, may disturb one's musings for the nonce, but his keeper will have him securely in hand and there will be no possibility of escape. There will be other sounds—the shouts of the camel drivers, the bombardment of Port Arthur and the sinking of the Katzinan, the beating of drums, the songs of the Plantation Singers rehearsing for the first evening concert, and the blare of brass instruments saluting the flag as it is lowered at the administration building. Otherwise perfect peace will reign during the half-between the afternoon and evening performances. If one is watchful an open tent flap may reveal the bearded lady, granted a brief respite from her exhibitory toil and enjoying her evening repast of kangaroo steak. She hails from far off Australia and has just returned from her peculiar task of having at one time served as president of a lady's boomerang club. "The Pike" will be open to everyone. An admission of ten cents will be charged at the gate and the bus fare from the street car will be five cents each way.

WHITTAKER TAKES A HAND IN GAME

Secretary of The Barbers Board Is in Milwaukee Settling Up Disputed Points.

Axel R. Douhan, Superior; Henry Helne, Reedsburg, and M. H. Whittaker, Janesville, comprising the state barbers' board of examiners are meeting Milwaukee barbers at the Republican house in Milwaukee who have failed to take out their licenses as prescribed by law and to hear such other grievances as may come before them.

"As far as threats are concerned of testing the constitutionality of the license law," said Treasurer Helne, "the board would welcome such a step on the part of the barbers, as it would settle once for all any controversy that may arise on that question. The law has been tested in other states, notably in Minnesota, Illinois and Michigan, and the supreme courts of these states have upheld it. It would seem strange, indeed, to find a law adopted in twenty-two states within six years that would not withstand attacks on its constitutionality."

"There are about 100 barbers in the state who have so far not complied with the law," said Secretary Whittaker. "About fifty of these are in Milwaukee. At the hearing at Madison last Monday, where we had summoned a number of barbers to show cause why they should not be compelled to pay their licenses, all appearing had good and sufficient excuses, though it must be admitted that we were very lenient with them, accepting the fact that some were on their honeymoon and on sufficient reason. We will be in Milwaukee tomorrow and we hope that all those who have any grievances against the board will appear before us to have the difficulty adjusted."

During the latter part of next month the board will hold examinations in the following cities: Milwaukee, three days; Janesville, La Crosse, Chippewa Falls, Superior, Wausau and Green Bay.

OLD MAIDS CAUSE DECIDED HAVOC

Train Load of Them Passed Through Janesville Recently En Route for St. Paul.

There was great excitement in Janesville yesterday when the report spread that two trainloads of old maids had passed through the city over the Northwestern road. It was at first thought that some of them would be left in Janesville, but the fact that the lower City has only a few bachelors to spare dispelled all anxiety. The trains arrived early in the morning and stopped here about 15 minutes. The theory seemed to prevail that the east was full of old maids and had therefore decided to deport them to western states.

Inquiry at the depot, however, led to the information that the women, most of whom were unmarried, are on their way to the national convention of an organization which is being held in St. Paul. District Passenger Agent James Gibson had much difficulty in locating one of the officials of the organization. After making many inquiries he found the officer and on being introduced to her he said:

"Beg pardon, but did I understand Mrs. or Miss?"

"I am a Miss," responded the lady happily. "I am the president of the old maids."

When the train reached Madison Ticket Agent John C. Prien, of the East Madison depot, was approached by one of the "girls" who, pointing at Lake Monona, said:

"What mudhole is that over there?"

"The ticket agent was not slow in responding, and said:

"Excuse me, madam, but will you tell me how old you are?"

"The woman did not stop to answer the question but hurriedly took French leave."

The fact of the matter was shown upon full investigation that the travelers constituted as attractive and intelligent a gathering of women as is seldom seen. Despite the terribly hot day they maintained an appearance of freshness that one would scarcely expect on so long a trip and under such trying weather conditions.

FARMERS CAN SIT AND SMILE NOW

Corn Is Rushing Along—You Can Hear It Growing Day by Day.

The farmer is the happiest of men. While others are azzling, grumbling and growling because of the heat, the farmer is returning thanks to the weather man. While men in town are mopping their brows and hoping for a cool breeze, the farmer presents a countenance calling for a continuance of the hot spell. He sits on the fence with his hat off, watching the corn grow. It fairly chafes and swishes as it rushes nearer the clouds. He not only sees, but actually hears it grow. The old rule, "waist high in the middle of July," has been more than complied with, for corn is shoulder high on lowland and is above the waist on high ground. It has a deep rich hue, a sign of health and strength. It points to an abundant crop.

Not in years have the crop looked so promising. Corn not only requires hot days but hot nights and it has been getting plenty of both. July is an important month for this staple crop of southern Wisconsin, for if it can make a great gain in July it is so much nearer from danger of an early frost in September. Farmers all over the county declare they never saw corn looking so well and as a big crop means much to them they are willing city people should swelter.

VERDICT OF THE PARTY
From the report of the Committee on Credentials to the REPUBLICAN NATIONAL CONVENTION, which was unanimously adopted by that convention, June 25, 1904.

Your committee report it to be their final judgment that the convention which elected said John C. Spooner, J. V. Quarles, J. W. Babcock and Emil Quasch as delegates at large, and their alternates at large, to this convention from the state of Wisconsin WAS THE REGULAR CONVENTION OF THE REPUBLICAN PARTY IN WISCONSIN, and that the delegates elected by it are the regular elected delegates at large from the state of Wisconsin to the republican convention, and, as such, are entitled to seats in this convention.

ROOSEVELT.

Gov. Black says of Roosevelt: He is no slender flower swaying in the wind, but that heroic fibre which is best nurtured by the mountains and the snow. He spends little time in review, for that, he knows, can be done by the schools. A statesman grappling with the living problems of the hour, he gropes but little in the past. He believes in going ahead. He believes that in shaping the destinies of this great republic, hope is a higher impulse than regret. He believes that preparation for future triumphs is a more important duty than an inventory of past mistakes. A profound student of history, he is today the greatest history maker in the world. With the instincts of the scholar, he is yet forced from the scholar's pursuits by those superb qualities which fit him to the last degree for those great world currents now rushing past with larger volume and more portentous aspect than for many years before. The fate of nations is still decided by their wars. You may talk of orderly tribunals and learned referees; you may sing in your schools the gentle praises of the quiet life; you may strike from your books the last note of every martial anthem, and yet out in the smoke and thunder will always be the tramp of horses and the silent, rigid, upturned face. Men may prophesy and women pray, but peace will come here to abide forever on this earth only when the dreams of childhood are the accepted charts to guide the destinies of men. Events are numberless and mighty, and no man can tell which wire runs around the world. The nation basking today in the quiet of contentment and repose may still be on the deadly circuit and tomorrow writhing in the tolls of war.

This is the time when great figures must be kept in front. If the pressure is great, the material to resist it must be granite and iron. Whether we wish it or not, America is abroad in this world. Her interests are in every street, her name is on every tongue. Those interests, so sacred and stupendous, should be trusted only to the care of those whose power, skill and courage have been tested and approved. An in the man whom you will choose the highest sense of every nation in the world beholds a man who typifies as no other living American does the spirit and the purposes of the twentieth century. He does not claim to be the Solomon of his time. There are many things he may not know, but this is sure, that above all things else he stands for progress, courage and fair play, which are the synonyms of the American name.

There are times when great fitness is hardly less than destiny, when the elements so come together that they select the agent they will use. Events sometimes select to strongest man, as lightning goes down the highest rod. And so it is with those events which for many months with unerring sight have led you to a single name which I am chosen only to pronounce: Gentlemen, I nominate for President of the United States the highest living type of youth, the vigor and the promise of a great country and a great age, Theodore Roosevelt, of New York.

One of the Caravals that represented the ships Columbus sailed to America in 1492 and now lie rotting off Jackson Park, Chicago, might be equipped for the democratic management to make a tour of the great lakes.

One protection against a burglar is to have nothing that is worth stealing and another is to have a good gun or a good dog to protect your property.

This crop weather makes the farmers' hearts glad. Good crops means good times and good times for the farmers means good times all along the line.

PRESS COMMENT

Evansville Review: Political supplements in our country exchanges are getting numerous now days, and all possess the same literary tone.

Newark News: We have wallowed England in war, outlasted her on the sea, beaten her at rifle practice, and wrested the golf championship from her. Now, does England play marbles?

Atchison Globe: An Atchison woman who has a mother, five aunts, four sisters, three brothers, and two cousins, has joined a lodge "so she will have some one to take care of her when she is sick."

Whitewater Gazette: The democratic convention went a few salt-bitter tears over the poor, misused Filipino but did not do any wallowing about the condition of the colored man at home.

Chicago Record-Herald: One of the most curious things in this world is the fact that everybody who never had it knows of some place where he may have positively has to go right out of business.

Kansas City Journal: The story of the sweet girl graduate who became confused and informed the audience that "Beyond the lips lies Aity," should be accompanied with a piece of blue ribbon as an evidence of good faith.

El Paso Herald: It ought to be a good time coming for the recent college graduates in engineering, for the mortalities at Panama will be furnishing fresh openings all the time.

Milwaukee Sentinel: The present would be a good time for Governor La Follette to issue a complete statement of the receipts and disbursements of the state government for the year ending July 1, 1904, showing his latest record of "economy."

Chicago Chronicle: It is only justice to admit that the St. Louis platform is not the worst that ever was written, since that distinction is likewise strongly urged for the platform of 1896 and 1900. The pre-eminence of the St. Louis document lies in its abject cowardice.

Marquette Eagle-Star: The democrats in national convention adopted the mossback free trade declaration which has been in every democratic platform for almost a century—that the tariff should be restored to a revenue basis and administered for revenue only. This is the same plank that has been voted down by the American people repeatedly, and will be again. Parker's friends wanted to straddle the tariff for the benefit of the east, but Bryan wouldn't permit them.

Racine News: The scheme which Della Bacon prosecuted fifty years ago to dig up Shakespeare's remains and find in the casket the confession that his plays were written by Lord Bacon has taken new life, this time among the English people themselves. The project is received with a good deal of favor in the literary world, even among those who do not at all believe that William Shakespeare was Lord Bacon's nom de plume. They admit that it is a subject worth investigation.

Grant County Witness: The Milwaukee Free Press makes the statement that Hon. S. A. Cook, the regular republican candidate for governor, has said he will stand down and out if the supreme court decides that he is not the regular republican candidate. Will the Free Press kindly tell us whether Governor La Follette will pursue a similar course should the decision be against him?

Beloit Free Press: Game wardens come high, but the present state administration must have them in its business, whatever the expense to the people. To maintain these chaps last year and their pals, the oil inspectors, while they were "beating up" "fair minded democrats" for caucus purposes, talking on street corners and organizing clubs, it cost the tidy sum of $108,000, all of which was filched from those who like to take a day or two off for tramping around with a harmless gun on their shoulder, and those who burn oil instead of gas. One hundred and eight thousand dollars is a good bit of money to pay out for the "protection of game" and the perpetuation of game wardens to "round up" fair minded democrats.

FORTUNE FOR ELIJAH II. FROM RICH MERCHANT

Swedish Citizen of Iowa Goes to Zion City to Assign His Wealth to John Alexander Dowle.

Des Moines, Ia., July 20.—E. M. Ellingson, a wealthy commission merchant here, and one of the most influential Swedish citizens of the state, has gone to Zion City for the purpose of assigning to John Alexander Dowle the greater portion of a large estate here.

Mrs. Elizabeth and Josephine Ellingson, two society belles, daughters of the merchant, announced at a house party that, owing to their father's decision, they would have to retire from their social duties and enter the business world to make a living.

On account of their opposition to their father's plans, the young women are to be cut off with an allowance which will not permit them to retain their former position in society. They have withdrawn from Drake university and do not expect to complete their college education.

The Ellingson residence here is valued at $16,000, and the entire estate at $60,000. Mr. Ellingson says he believes it to be his Christian duty to give his money into Dowle's hands.

NEW COMPANY IS NOW PROSPECTING

Interurban Connections With Racine May Be Accomplished Very Shortly.

The long hoped for electric road connection between Janesville and the east is in a fair way toward being realized by recent developments at Racine. Boston capitalists are in communication with Mayor Nelson with a view of building an interurban electric line from Racine to Lake Geneva, in Walworth county, for the purpose of connecting the summer resorts and chain of lakes in the two counties, where thousands of pleasure seekers spend their summer vacations.

The proposed interurban road is supposed to run from Lake Geneva and the surrounding points of interest to Elkhorn, the county seat, ten miles distant. It will then connect with Brown's lake, at Burlington, and Eagle lake at Kansasville, after which it will run direct to Racine, thus affording ready communication for the people at Union Grove and other flourishing country centers and with the county seat.

The negotiations are as yet in a primitive form, but will undoubtedly materialize into something more substantial, if the farmers along the proposed road will look to their own interests and offer no opposition to the necessary right of way.

The Beloit, Delavan Lake and Janesville management has several times stated that as soon as a line was built from the east to Elkhorn, the road would be extended from this city to connect with it. Only a short time ago Mr. Clough stated another year would see operations under way and now that a move has been made from the east there is little doubt, but that the projected line will be built to Delavan and Elkhorn, opening up a rich field for Janesville merchants.

MRS. JOHN WEISS IN RAILROAD WRECK

Mrs. Catherine Morse, Aged 80 Years, And Her Nine Year Old Daughter Also On The Train.

Mrs. John Weiss and nine year old daughter, and Mrs. Catherine Morse arrived in the city last evening from Henderson, Nebraska. While en route home they were on the passenger train that was wrecked at Cedar Rapids, Ia., Tuesday morning at 2 o'clock when the passenger train left the track at an open switch, while the passengers were all asleep in the train. The fireman and engineer and two tramps who were riding on the head end were killed. The engine, baggage car and two coaches left the track, but none of the passengers were injured. Mrs. Weiss and her daughter and Mrs. Morse were thrown from their seats and were not injured beyond a severe shaking up. They arrived home last evening. Mrs. Morse is eighty years of age and the shock to her nervous system was very great.

MISSOURI DEMOCRATS UNSEAT ST. LOUIS MEN

Committee's Nominee for Temporary Secretary Is Defeated Because He Was Not an Original Folk Man.

Jefferson City, Mo., July 20.—The Democratic state convention in session here voted to unseat the St. Louis delegates who were elected by police, intimidation, and blasted the hopes of B. L. Byrnes of being temporary secretary because he was not an original folk man.

Chairman Rothwell of the state central committee made a brief speech announcing the names of those selected by the committee for temporary officers of the convention.

In response to the instructions of Chairman Rothwell for the temporary officers to assume their duties, Delegate James C. Jones of St. Louis instantly sprang to his feet and moved that the name of Byrnes for temporary secretary be stricken from the list and that the name of P. J. Nolan of La Grange be submitted.

The result of the roll call was: Nolan, 401; Byrnes, 290.

The announcement of the roll call was received with tremendous applause. Jones next offered a resolution that the committee on credentials, when formed, be instructed to hold null and void the election of all delegates where it is proved that fraudulent methods were practiced in bringing about such elections.

Harry B. Hawes of St. Louis, Folk's political enemy, arose and said: "I desire to second the motion of the gentleman who is here on a proxy."

Instantly the convention was in an uproar, which continued for several minutes, but the motion was finally adopted.

Danced for Joy.

Not many famous persons have the faculty for friendship in old age as Lord Beaconsfield had it. His passion for mastery, his addiction to mystery were rivaled by his immense faithfulness. While he was at Glasgow to be inaugurated lord rector of the university he heard good tidings of an old associate. "Mrs. Disraeli and I," he wrote, "were overjoyed and we danced a highland fling in our night-gowns."

Easily Made Scarecrows.

Mr. Alfred Robinson of Annapolis county, Nova Scotia, contributes his method of protecting young corn plants from crows. He says: Stick bean poles with black bottles on the end here and there over the cornfield. The birds, being cunning and suspicious, will regard the glittering bottles as dangerous and keep away from the field.

The Substitute

IN THIS PAPER

The Substitute, by Will N. Harben, the distinguished author's highest achievement and one of the best stories of American life ever written will be printed serially in this paper.

PRAISE FROM THE CRITICS

Decidedly original motive and full of quaint folk portrayed with fidelity. A very human story that makes it a picture of real American life.—Brooklyn Eagle.

"I killed a feller jest at the close o' the war."

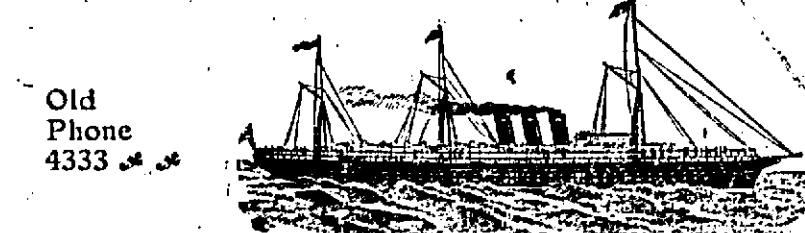

A wholesome, well told story. The plot is fresh, many of the events unfolded come upon the reader as surprises and throughout the story is the racy vigor that results from a deep, true knowledge of the region depicted and the mental grasp to project it.—Literary Digest.

The Substitute is a better book than Mr. Harben's greatly praised Abner Daniel.—Elita Higginson in the Seattle Times.

A sound, wholesome tale of North Georgia life with real richness and humor and character. It is as good as Mr. Harben's Abner Daniel and that is saying not a little.—Hamilton W. Mabie in The Outlook.

SIGHTS SEEN ARE LONG REMEMBERED

OS. CONNORS RETURNS FROM YANKTON, S. D.

ELL OF THE GREAT CROWDS

Wonderful Sightings in The Great Registration City of The Rosebud Drawings.

"No one ever saw such a sight as a daily taking place at Yankton in the history of this country," said Joe Connors this afternoon. Mr. Connors returned from Yankton, South Dakota, last evening and his experience and the sights he saw in this boom city of the Dakotas are well worth listening to. Accompanied by Hal Lacey, Ben Carey and on Conger, Mr. Connors left Janesville Saturday night and arrived in Yankton Sunday noon. The party registered at the Pierce hotel and saw the sight of several thousand men in line waiting their turn at the registration booths. In speaking of the sight Mr. Connors says:

Wonderful Sight
"It was a sight well worth seeing, as soon as we stepped off the train at the depot three-quarters of a mile from the town proper we were greeted by notaries who are without number. Every private house for nearly a mile is a notary's office. They walk out and grab men like sheep. Every one has to have the service of a notary and there are enough of them. The day we registered, Monday, there were five thousand and fifty-five persons registered and when the booths closed at night there were two thousand still in line. We were located right over the registration booth and were awakened by the crowds in line singing about three o'clock in the morning. When we got in line we only had to wait about two hours and twenty-five minutes before our turn came. The line began to be formed by twelve o'clock of the night before and the men stay in line until the office opens at eight-thirty in the morning."

Janesville Boy
"Almost the first person I saw on stepping off the train was Harry Ferguson who greeted our party. Ferguson is taking photographs of the crowd and sells them at thirty-five and fifty cents apiece. He has a gold mine and sells fully fifty dollars worth a day. The picture he took Monday was taken at five-thirty and he had it printed and selling at six in fact, there is every kind of graft imaginable. While you are in line you can buy anything to eat and drink you want. One beauty of the situation is that the townspeople have not taken advantage of the situation and the prices remain the same as they were before the rush began."

The Gambling
"Mike Manger of Sioux City has the gambling privileges, having paid forty thousand dollars for them and he will clear up fully two hundred and fifty thousand dollars before the rush is over. They have fired out all the Chicago gamblers, bag and baggage. Still however there are enough rascals there to make things interesting for the unwary. The greatest graft is the telegraph game. A man leaves a dollar and is promised that if he draws anything it will be telegraphed him. Another game is ten dollars for locating the claims by land agents. These two will yield the grafters a mint of money."

Police Protection
"The St. Paul road has an able corps of detectives at work all along the line and there are government detectives looking for noted crooks. Thus far, the city has been kept pretty clear and no big robberies have taken place. The town people are very pleasant and do not take advantage of the crowds. There are plenty of accommodations for everyone and many of the visitors sleep out of doors from choice. Taking it all in all it is a good natured crowd. While many of the men there carried guns, if they tried to show them they were quickly taken away and they were lucky if they did not get hit over the head with their own weapon. The crowds are from all over. Half of Missouri is there and large numbers of Oklahoma citizens with their long way hair are seeking new lands. Why, cowboys stand in line with bankers from the east. Every nationality and every walk in life is represented."

"There are no gambling booths on the streets. These are all conducted within doors in the saloons. Chuck-luck, faro, betting on the races, roulette and other games where the coin was quickly lost were in evidence. Of course there are poker games, but they are too slow for the saloon trade and are played in private rooms. Then there are side shows without number. The fat woman of the hoochie-koochie dancers, all kinds of one-up, every conceivable dodge to catch the pennies are among the shows. The most comical sight is the buses. These meet every train and all the way from a deadwood coach to hayracks and old dilapidated wagons, that look as though they might fall apart before them could reach their destination, are in evidence. From now on the crowds will be something fierce. The crowds that have been there are only the preliminary, but now the rush will commence."

Mr. Connors and party returned by way of Sioux City where they met Otto Metzler, formerly agent at the St. Paul depot here. The party left Mr. Connors' two brothers, James and John Connors at Yankton and they will go to Chamberlain to watch for the Janesville men's numbers when the drawing takes place, July 28th. Mr. Connors had a talk with a United States army officer stationed at Yankton and he was told that the drawing would be on the square and every person registered would have an equal show.

FRANK O. DARLING TOOK LAUDUNUM

A Telegram Found on His Person From a Supposed Brother, T. A. Darling of This City.

The following notice of the suicide of a Janesville man appears in the Fond du Lac Commonwealth under date of Tuesday, July 19:
Janesville Man Suicides
St. Paul, Minn., July 18.—Frank O. Darling, formerly of Janesville, Wis., took a large draught of laudanum in Klee park Saturday morning and died a few hours later at the city hospital. Despondency over the recent death of his sister and his failure to get work are supposed to have impelled the act. Darling was a telegraph operator and came to St. Paul two weeks ago to search for work. A letter was found in his pocket showing that a sister had recently died in California. A telegram from T. A. Darling, supposed to be a brother, living in Janesville, was also found on him.

PURE MILK FOR ALL CONSUMERS

Janesville Pure Milk Company Supplying Real Article—Cleanliness Their Watchword.

Do Janesville buyers realize how much is being done to give them a pure milk supply? Those of you who are buying pasteurized milk, how many of you realize how much is being done to give you an absolutely pure article—milk that is free from tuberculosis and other disease germs, milk from which all animal heat, barn taint, and impurities of all kinds have been removed?
A visit to the Janesville Pure Milk Company's plant, on Park Street, is a most convincing argument for purity, illustrating as it does the efforts being made to give Janesville a pure, clean, milk supply. Here the farmer takes milk early each morning. Not warm milk just as it comes from the cow, but aerated milk—milk that has been at once strained and cooled to 60 degrees or lower and kept at that temperature until delivered in Janesville.

The process of handling the milk from the time it comes from the cow until on its way to the consumer, is an interesting one. The milk is first strained into an aerator, slowly flowing from the aerator into cans. As you stand by an aerator you can distinctly smell the animal matter leaving the milk. When not thus treated but left standing or immediately put in covered cans, milk becomes "sour" and is thus used by hundreds of consumers. Smothered milk is a cause of much sickness. Aerators will soon be in the hands of all farmers however. The Janesville company is paying an extra price for good milk, and will refuse to take it unless it has been properly cooled and cared for.

At the factory, the aerated milk is strained into a covered vat where it is thoroughly mixed and equalized. It is again strained as it goes into the pasteurizing tank where all germs, such as tuberculosis and other diseases are removed. From the pasteurizing tank the milk goes into a heater at 160 degrees, then to a cooler at 70 degrees, and then into an ice cooler at 46 degrees. This latter temperature brings all cream to the top of the bottle within one half hour. From the ice cooler it goes to the bottle filler where it is strained for the fourth time, as it passes into the bottles. The bottles are immediately capped and the four wagons soon are carrying one pasteurized milk to the consumer.

"Cleanliness" is the watchword of the new company. Immediately after using, the pipes through which the milk passes from the receiving vat, through the chain of tanks, to the bottle filler, are at once cleaned with cold water, then washed with boiling water. All vats and tanks are similarly treated. The bottles are washed with a white borax soap and after sterilizing are as clean and bright as from the nearest kitchen. Though higher priced in other cities, pasteurized milk is sold in Janesville at the same price as other milk, five cents per quart. The treatment it receives not only renders it pure and free from disease germs, but the milk will stay sweet 24 hours longer. But one delivery a day is necessary with pasteurized milk, while dealers in other milk make two deliveries each day.

Messrs. Fred B. Gaudy and Eugene Craft are the proprietors of the present Janesville concern. These gentlemen have been engaged in the pure milk business in Milwaukee for a number of years, and are experts in the handling of milk with modern methods. Since purchasing the milk department of the Shurtleff company, they have installed much new apparatus and now have as complete an equipment as is found in this state. That the efforts of the new firm to give Janesville purer milk than was ever possible before, are appreciated, is evidenced by the steadily increasing business. The Janesville Pure Milk Co. merit every bit of increased trade which has come their way and their business should double within the next few months.

You should call at the plant on Park street and see the new pasteurizer. Visitors are always welcome. Every effort will be made to give you a thorough understanding of the methods of pasteurization and sterilization and the visit will be well worth your while.

A RUNAWAY ON NORTH MAIN ST.

Fred Gallup and Miss Margaret Bostwick Had Narrow Escape From Serious Injury Last Night.

The breaking of one of the wagon shafts frightened a horse driven by Fred Gallup near the Bostwick clothing store about six o'clock last evening and the animal started off on a mad dash up North Main street, dragging the vehicle by one of the shafts. Mr. Gallup was thrown to the ground but escaped with a few bruises. Miss Margaret Bostwick who was also in the rig clung to the seat and suffered nothing more serious than a bad fright. The horse freed himself of the wagon near the People's drugstore but slipped, fell and was captured in front of the east side fire station. In the afternoon one of Ryan & Son's hacks which was conveying Rev. J. A. M. Hickey and Mrs. Yates to the Schofield funeral in a rig to avoid a street car, ran into a trolley and the pole was torn off. No other damage was done.

SEVEN BAD ONES IN COURT TODAY

HARD LOOKING CHARACTERS CAUGHT IN POLICE DRAG-NET

THREE HAIL FROM KAUKAUNA

Claim to Be Striking Paper-Makers Who Had Come to Locate the Town—One From Whitewater.

Seven rather hard looking gentry were escorted into municipal court this afternoon by Acting Chief of Police Brown. Frank Whitmore, Otto Paul, and William Rausch were the names given by three of them, who claimed to be striking paper-makers from Kaukauna who had come down to visit relatives in Janesville during their enforced vacation. They said that they rode into the city on a freight train with full permission of a brakeman by the name of Riley, whom they claimed as a personal friend. Upon their arrival here Monday they were met at the depot by Officer Brown who at once invited them to survey the interior of the city hall. Five days in the county jail was meted out to each of them on the charge of vagrancy. James Lee pleaded guilty to the charge of being intoxicated in a public place. He said he came to Janesville from Whitewater for the purpose of spending his money. Upon the inquiry of the court as to whether he succeeded he replied in the affirmative. Three dollars and costs or eight days in jail was the sentence given him. William Logan and Jerry Sutherland pleaded not guilty to the charge of vagrancy and their trials were set for Friday. John McGilguy pleaded guilty to the charge of intoxication and was given his choice of a $2 fine and costs or six days in jail.

CONTESTS AT LINKS WERE INTERESTING

Match Play Enjoyed by Many Spectators Yesterday—Two Four-somes Forfeited.

Tuesday proved an ideal day for golf and the match play in the Pare trophy contest proved very interesting both for the participants and the spectators. Two of the four-somes were forfeited owing to the absence of Frank Fifield who was injured yesterday morning. C. C. McLean and Mrs. C. L. Fifield won from Frank Fifield and Katherine Fifield by forfeit. C. Acherberg and Belle McLean won from C. L. Fifield and Mrs. C. L. Fifield in the same manner. H. S. McGilguy and Elizabeth Wilcox won their contest with George Baumann and Mrs. McGilguy. Wilson Lane and Agnes Shumway won from H. G. Carter and Mabel Jackman. Al Schaller and Elizabeth Schaller defeated Charles Schaller and wife. Mark Bostwick and Betsey Wilcox defeated Ross King and wife. Fred Schaller and Mrs. Fred Howe won in their contest with J. P. Baker and Mrs. Blodgett. O. Sutherland and Mrs. P. L. Myers defeated Fred Sheldon and Mrs. A. J. Harris. The game that was to be played in Madison on Friday has been postponed on account of the preparations for "The Pike."

TAUGHT HOW TO EAT.

For a number of years this mother and daughter suffered together under a heavy and poignant grief.

The husband and father was one of the best men imaginable, kind, indulgent, even-tempered, a bountiful provider, trustworthy as a St. Bernard—a model husband and father in all respects save one.

He was a sword swallower.

It was as natural for him to eat pease and peas with a knife as it is for a rabbit to eat lettuce from its paws.

He had risen in the world from a humble environment, and it is a well-authenticated sociological fact that an humble environment and sword swallowing are connotations.

His wife had undergone years of hopeless misery because of her husband's adhesion to the knife method of partaking of his food before her daughter, with the letting down of her skirts and the putting up of her hair, began to take notice of such things.

As soon as the daughter arrived at this run-things stage of life, however, she began the agitation.

"It's all your fault, mamma," she told her mother time and again. "It's your place to tell papa how awful it looks to other folks."

"I'll never tell him in the wide world, daughter," the mother would reply, helplessly. "I shouldn't even think of such a thing. He is so kind and good, and I wouldn't say anything to hurt his feelings for anything on earth. Not only would he feel hurt, but he would be terribly angry."

"But he would have no right to become angry," the daughter would argue, with the coarseness of youth. "It's dreadful and it is perfectly astonishing that he doesn't see it. It is the one thing that papa does that is frightful."

Last summer the daughter quite pointedly refused to go to the seaside with her father and mother, saying that she would much prefer to go to auntie's place up in the mountains of Pennsylvania. Her father tried coaxing and cajoling, saying that he wanted to show off his pretty daughter on the boardwalk, but she was adamant.

"It's no use, mamma," she said, privately, to her mother. "I simply can't bear to have the mean, common things that we meet at the seaside stare at us as they do when they see papa eating cauliflower and things with his knife—indeed I can't! It is too humiliating. You and papa go to the seaside, and I shall go to Aunt Laura's."

When they all got back to Washington in the autumn the daughter had a great scheme to suggest to her mother.

"It was funny," she said, "the way I jumped out of the frying pan into the fire in going up to Aunt Laura's. You should see the way my cousins, the girls as well as the boys, act at the table! Such table manners! When they were all taking soup together, it sounded like a freight locomotive blowing off steam on a winter's night. They all held their forks as if they were augurs, and merrily and gracefully sipped alive, how they did shove the food into their mouths with their knives! The one blessing was that there were no outsiders at Aunt Laura's table to leer and loll."

"Oh, I know that Sister Laura's children are being brought up like Monks," said the mother, "but I can't see what good it does for you to tell me what I know already. I can't help their table manners, can I?"

"Why, certainly not, mamma," said the daughter, "but, all the same, I am going to find the table manners of my cousins useful. Just you wait and see, I am going to invite the whole crew of them to visit us in Washington. I am going to reform papa by suggestion, see?"

And then she went ahead and unfolded the scheme to her mother. The mother didn't enthuse over the plan, although she admitted that there was a remote possibility of its working successfully.

One day, in October last, the husband and father came home with a glad smile and announced that he had purchased that day three tickets for a midwinter cruise, on one of the beautiful yacht-like German steamers, of the Mediterranean, including a visit to the Holy Land—a three-months' trip.

The very night the outgoing mail carried from both mother and daughter, a cordially worded invitation to Sister Laura's children, five in all—three strapping yokels of boys and two nifty and blowsy girls—to come to Washington at once for a two-weeks' visit.

They got along to Washington all right just three days after, having received the invitation.

As sword-swallowers, those nephews and nieces by marriage of the head of the house had him tied into how-knots, bucked and gagged and tossed into a limekiln.

The head of the house watched them at their meals with a queer, fascinated intensity for a couple of days. "Remind me of a railroad construction gang I bossed once when I was a young fellow," he remarked to his enchanted wife. "Swell lot of relatives you've got, Mandy."

On the second day of their visit he began to address himself, somewhat clumsily at first, but with increasing confidence as he got the hang of it, to the use of his fork in the partaking of his food.

Long before the visit of the Pennsylvania relatives came to an end he had yielded wholly to the power of reversed suggestion and had forever ceased to be a sword-swallower. The Mediterranean cruise was a joyous affair, and so gloriously free of embarrassment to the wife and daughter that they could scarcely realize how it had all come about.

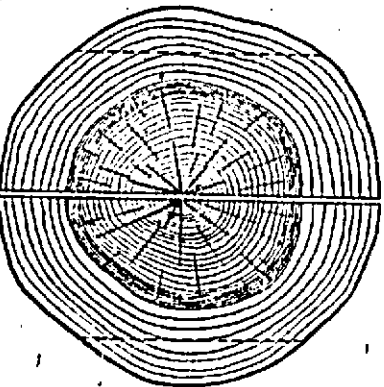

They brought back a mighty handsome lot of souvenirs for their Pennsylvania relatives.—Washington Star.

RAILROAD TIE TIMBER.

A New Form of Tie—Overcoming the Disadvantages of Soft Woods.

Washington.—The manner in which railroad ties have hitherto been made has been determined largely by the ease and rapidity with which they could be cut. They have been obtained from trees of all diameters from nine inches upward, the most serviceable portions of live straight trees being selected. The bureau of forestry has for some time been making studies and experiments designed to prevent the exhaustion of the timbers from which ties are made.

The latest results of these investigations, as stated by Dr. Hermann von Schrenk, make it appear that a trapezoidal or modified half round tie, with a base of ten to twelve inches and a top bearing surface of six inches, distributes the weight of moving train loads upon the roadbed as effectively as a rectangular tie ten to twelve inches broad. The half round tie is good for the lumberman because in numerous instances two ties of this form can be made from a log which would furnish but one rectangular tie. In other cases material for several boards is saved where a rectangular tie would have taken the entire log. This form is beneficial to the forest, since it encourages the cutting of large trees and the saving of small ones until they reach more valuable size and permits the utilization of much timber from the tops, hitherto left in the woods. The half round tie is advantageous from a mechanical standpoint also because it gives greater bearing surface per mile and a correspondingly more stable track than rectangular ties. This tie form is therefore advocated by the bureau of forestry as economical of timber, conservative of the lumber supply and at the same time equally efficient with the forms in common use.

The commonest as well as the best tie material of the past and present in this country is white oak, which resists both wear and decay excellently and is consequently cheaper in the long run than less expensive woods like beech, red oak or loblolly and lodge pole pine. But white oak, besides being one of our finest timber trees, is becoming high priced and, further, as railroad men know well, is becoming scarce even faster than the advancing price would indicate.

With proper methods preservative treatment of the softer woods can be made entirely successful, and impregnation with creosote, zinc chloride or other antiseptic substances allows the use of many woods hitherto passed over as well as of saved ties, sapwood and dead timber. Preservative treatment can make a beech or red oak or pine tie outlast a white oak tie. But the wearing away of the softer fibers of these woods under the rail and around the spike raises a new set of problems.

In driving a spike into a white oak tie the strong and elastic fiber of the wood is bent downward, maintaining a close contact, so that powerful resistance is offered to its withdrawal. When driven into such woods as hemlock and western yellow, lodge pole, loblolly or short leaf pine, the fibers of the wood are crushed and broken. As a result the spikes do not hold with sufficient firmness. The spike must soon be driven in a new place, and this constant respiking rapidly ruins the tie.

The solution of this difficulty is achieved by the use of a screw spike. In the soft woods screw spikes will resist nearly three times as great a strain as nail spikes. If inserted in a screw dowel of hard wood the power of the screw spike is still greater.

Bohwhite a Good Bird.

Scientists of the department of agriculture vouch for the good character of bohwhite, declaring that it is "probably the most useful abundant species on farms." It consumes large quantities of weed seeds and destroys many of the worst insect pests which farmers have to contend with, and it does no injury to grain, fruit or other crops, according to these authorities. Among its food are numbered the dreaded cotton boll weevil and the cotton worm, the destructive elm-bug and the sticky mountain locust.

Philip Giovanni, aged 19, while in bathing in Fox river, at Appleton, Sunday afternoon, was drowned. He was a Milwaukee boy, working for the new Kimberley mill there.

MACCABEES' RANKS GROWING

Membership, as Reported by Supreme Commander, Shows Steady Gain.

Detroit, Mich., July 20.—With the readjustment of the rates as the most important business for consideration, the triennial review of the Supreme Tent, Knights of the Macabees of the World, opened here Tuesday. The membership of nearly 400,000 was represented by about 100 delegates. Supreme Commander D. P. Mackey of Port Huron in his annual report stated that the membership of the order at the close of the three-year term, Dec. 31, 1903, was 362,353, a net gain during the three years of 121,709, as compared with 39,013 during the previous three years.

SUPREME REVIEW OF L. O. T. M.

Seventy-Five Women Delegates Attend Great Convention at Detroit.

Detroit, July 20.—Seventy-five delegates, representing 150,000 women in all parts of the country, were present with their supreme officers in the Russell house convention hall Tuesday when the triennial review of the Supreme Live, Ladies of the Macabees of the World, was called to order. Readjustment of the rates of the order is the most important business that will come before them during their three days' sessions. After welcoming addresses and responses Mrs. Lillian M. Hollister of Detroit, the supreme commander, made her report.

ENGLAND WOULD BE ALL READY

ish crew is landed and none but Russians are aboard the steamer.

Very Wrathful
London, July 20.—The wrathful sentiment in England is aroused to a white heat today by the announcement that a Russian prize crew is conveying the British steamer, Malacca, through the Suez canal as a prize, to a Russian port, and Russia is preparing to abrogate the treaty with Paris still further by sending other ships through the Dardanelles. It is reported Lord Kitchener has been ordered to have an Italian army in readiness for action on short notice. The British Mediterranean squadron is in readiness to proceed to Alexandria to prevent any further interference with British ships. It is felt the situation is strained to a point where war is imminent, which only a disavowal or act of ample reparation on part of Russia can avert.

Japanese Win Long Fight
London, July 20.—A dispatch from Tokyo brings the report that 10,000 Japanese attacked 5,000 Russians, seven miles south of Tatsienkiao, on July 15. The fighting lasted nine hours. The Russians frequently were reinforced, but finally were dislodged, leaving more than 200 dead on the field.

The correspondent adds that it is rumored in Tokyo that three Japanese torpedo boat destroyers have sailed the Liao river, where the Russian gunboat Slouch and a Russian torpedo boat destroyer have been anchored. The Slouch is reported to have been beached further up the river. Japanese troops are said to be only six miles from Newchwang.

The reinforcements for which Gen. Oku has been waiting are now being disembarked near Kaichon under the protection of seven Japanese cruisers. A fresh landing of troops is also being effected to the north of Port Arthur, and important events may be looked for this week.

Losses May Be 2,000.
St. Petersburg, July 20.—It is now admitted that the Russian casualties in the attack on Motien pass will greatly exceed Gen. Kouroupatkin's figures and that they may reach 2,000. It also is admitted that the loss of the battle being a reconnaissance, it was the result of an attempt to capture the pass and break through the Japanese center.

It is now expected in military circles that the Japanese will attack Liaoyang, perhaps before any move is made on Tatsienkiao, forty miles to the south.

Change in Jap Plans.
As an outcome of Lieut. Gen. Count Keller's engagement at Motien pass, the military experts are convinced that there has been a rearrangement of the Japanese forces and a change in the Japanese plans in favor of a flank movement on Liaoyang, rather than a direct movement on Tatsienkiao.

This change, coinciding with the arrival of Field Marshal Oyama, leads the experts to attribute the responsibility to the new commander-in-chief.

Transfers Center of Interest.
Whoever is responsible, it is admitted that the Japanese are showing an appreciation of the present aspect of the campaign. Hitherto Gen. Kouroupatkin has been able to mislead Gens. Kurold, Nodzu and Oku, and to induce them to expend their greatest energy where it could do the least harm.

The center of interest has again been transferred to Liaoyang, and the Russians are able at this juncture to regard the situation with proper equanimity. The Liaoyang position is of such strength that Kurold's advance would be rather welcomed by Gen. Kouroupatkin.

Mines Kill 4,000 Japanese.
Chefoo, July 20.—A junk arrived here Tuesday afternoon, five days from Port Arthur, with eight Russians aboard who refuse to talk, and fifty Chinese. The latter say that on July 11 or 12 4,000 Japanese captured one of the eastern forts near the town, but before they could be reinforced the Russians cut them off and fired mines, killing all the Japanese. The Chinese also assert that a Russian torpedo boat attacked a merchantman near Port Arthur, believing that it was a Japanese transport. The Russians rescued the white crew and many of the Chinese, but a number of the Chinese were drowned.

Peculiar Species of Bean.
A certain species of bean in China and Japan grows a yard long. Efforts to introduce it into this country have failed.

Edith and the Lord's Prayer.

Edith's father was anxious to know, as she began to grow up, whether the traditional family imagination had been handed down to her. He was thoroughly satisfied on that point one night when, as she came to the end of the Lord's Prayer, he overheard her saying: "Amen, two men, three men."

Bridegroom Was Determined.

An extraordinary marriage ceremony took place recently in England. The bridegroom was suffering from a poisoned knee, and had to be carried to church on an ambulance at the risk of his life.

Natural Feet for Chinese.

The Tien-Tsu-Hui, or Society for Natural Feet, is making many converts in China. In some regions young men sign a pledge not to marry girls with artificially crippled feet.

Russian Soldier's Rations.

A Russian soldier's daily rations in the field are two and one-half pounds of bread, or one and three-quarters of biscuit; one pound of meat, and, for making soup, four ounces of barley groats; three-quarters ounce of dried vegetables and three ounces of flour. Also salt, pepper, tea and sugar.

Low Wages in Japan.

In the textile industries women are largely employed at a wage corresponding to 14 cents a day. More expensive men get the princely sum of 20 cents per day. Tailors, masons and woodworkers gain weekly incomes ranging from $1.25 to $1.75. Printers are even worse off, averaging only $1 a week.

German Toy Output.

The German toy industry has shown a steadily rising tendency for some time. Reliable statistics of exports were not kept prior to 1896, but since that date exports have risen from $9,282,000 to $13,566,000 per annum.

Meat Inspection in Belgium.

Frozen meats and live cattle are subjected to a sanitary inspection by the government before admission into Belgium. The communes are authorized to cause a second examination of meats introduced into their territory without cost to the persons interested.

You Can Take Either Road To Chicago And Join Our Car At Chicago.

THE $28.00 RATE PAYS FOR

1. All railroad fare from Janesville or any point in Rock County to St. Louis and return.
2. All transfer hand baggage in Chicago and St. Louis.
3. All street car fare from Union Station, St. Louis, to our White City and return.
4. All meals enroute (both ways) in our cafe coach Texas.
5. All meals at our camp on Sunday.
6. All lodgings and breakfasts at our camp while in St. Louis.
7. Lunch and six o'clock dinner daily on Fair grounds.
8. Daily admissions to the grounds.

THE WISCONSIN OUTING CLUB'S WHITE CITY OF TENTS, located within two blocks of one of the main entrances to the fair grounds, offers more real pleasure and comfort to the fair visitor than any other way possible for the money.

Our Camp is on an elevation that overlooks the exposition. Our camp is on the same block as the Epworth League Hotel and only one square from three of the best street car lines in the city.

The tents were made from double filled heavy army duck by one of the best manufacturers in the country and are warranted not to leak. They have 6 ft. walls and each tent has four bedrooms and a hall. They have wooden floors, are carpeted, and each bedroom has full sized double bed, iron bedstead, good springs, wool mattress, blankets, etc. All brand new and furnished by Marshall Field of Chicago. We have arranged to serve breakfasts at our camp, then lunch and 6 o'clock dinners at the Palace Du Costume Cafe, one of the very best on the grounds. This will enable all who so desire to enter the grounds right after breakfast and remain there until closing time, 11:30 P. M. This arrangement will add much to the pleasure of our guests for the memory of an evening spent on the Pike will remain through life. Our plan does away with the necessity for street cars to and from the grounds which at a time when most needed are always the most crowded. Those who make the trip can go to Chicago over either road out of Janesville. Complete your plans now and write today for information to J. M. TURNER, Manager of
